FaceTite MultiPlatform

All-in-one anti-ageing and skin improvement device

Comes with different attachments, each utilising another technology

Multipurpose device for anti-ageing and skin improvement

Our best-selling anti-ageing and skin improvement device, but BETTER! The FaceTite MultiPlatform not only combines three professional technologies such as Bipolar radio-frequency, Near-Infrared and red LED light, but now also comes with different platforms, each utilising another technology to support your specific needs at any given time. Get a younger-looking appearance without surgery!

- All-in-one anti-ageing and skin improvement device
- Comes with different attachments, each utilising another technology
- Accelerates cell activity and reconstructs collagen and elastin fibres for tighter and smoother skin
- Reduces wrinkles and fine lines, and strengthens and firms the facial muscles for a lifted appearance
- Shorter session time of only 5 minutes

Multiple attachments for larger areas

For the ultimate skin improvement results, the Silk'n FaceTite MultiPlatform offers multiple attachments, each with their own specialty. The device itself has a smaller treatment surface to tackle those hard-to-reach areas on the face, like areas around the eyes and mouth. It also includes a larger Bipolar radio frequency (RF) attachment and an Electrical Muscle Stimulation (EMS) attachment. Due to the larger surface of the attachments, it is easier to treat bigger areas on the face and neck area in record time. Choose your desired technology by easily switching between the attachments.

RF attachment: promotes skin rejuvenation, reduces fine lines and wrinkles, and reconstructs collagen and elastin fibres for tighter skin, improved skin tone and texture. It also blurs superficial sun and age spots.

EMS attachment: generates electrical pulses to stimulate muscular movements, improves blood circulation and eliminate swellings. It also strengthens the deeper layers of the skin for a firmer and more toned result.

Quick session time

Reducing fine lines and wrinkles in no time? The bigger surface of the platform ensures quicker sessions of only 5 minutes per area, saving you time to enjoy the finer things in life!

Includes luxurious storage case and Silk'n Slider Gel

Neatly store your FaceTite MultiPlatform in the beautiful storage case, which can hold the device itself, the Slider Gel, the adapter and the two included attachments. Furthermore, two extra designated areas have been created for attachments that are coming soon! The Slider Gel is included and works as a conductor during your RF sessions, ensuring smooth movements over the skin.

Cordless use

No more hassle with cables and adaptors during your session? The FaceTite MultiPlatform can be used cordless, giving you much more freedom to move. Now you are no longer bound to one place, and you can treat your face wherever and whenever you want. Watching TV, in bed or perhaps while relaxing in the garden. If your battery runs low, just connect your device to the adapter and continue your session.

More platforms COMING SOON!
