Delock Cable sleeve neoprene flexible with zip 3 m x 100 mm black

Description

This practical neoprene cable sleeve by Delock can be used for bundling exposed cables to protect them from dirt or damage. It also eliminates cable clutter and leaves cables looking neat and tidy.

Oil-resistant and flexible
Due to the resistant and flexible neoprene material, the cable sleeve protects the cables from dirt against oil and dust. The high flexibility of the cable sleeve allows it to be bent without damaging the cables.

With zip
The zip allows the cable sleeve to be opened and closed several times. The cables can be added or removed several times.
